

Each child is UNIQUE

Shouldn't education be?

Instead of being grouped by age, students are grouped in some subjects by what they know and are able to do. They move to the next level in each subject when they are ready. That means those who master skills quickly move forward, and those who need more help get it.

It's about learning — not about time.

Ask about our change to new standards or visit www.sbsadams50.org

